About Us

Jaime Salanga founded Draken Security in 2009 with the goal of providing quality security services with his unique vision and approach to the industry. Prior to starting Draken Security, Jaime provided close protection for several high-profile clients in various industries.

Our Team

Jin Kelley
Director of Operations

A former government contractor, his extensive security background includes supervisory and management roles in 5-star hospitality, major film studios, executive protection, estate security, special/red carpet events, investigations, surveillance and more. As a government contractor Jin was responsible for managing 22 US government sites in 12 states. He has worked as an executive protection agent for royal families, tech VIPs, diplomats, and celebrities.

Jason Kakebeen
VP account Operations

With a background in the entertainment industry, executive protection field, and patrol operations, he has been able to implement his creative and innovative security methods. Having worked with some of the entertainment industries elite, this enabled him to understand the unique requests of some of Hollywood's A-Listers and socialites.

Our Services

Patrol Services

Ideal for assets stored in warehouses or assets in need of overnight watch. Our officers keep detailed reports and are equipped with body cameras.

Security Officers:

Draken Security officers are easily identifiable and create a strong presence in their area of operation. Our officers receive in house training by licensed professionals. Draken Officers are ready to take on a wide range of situations.

Executive Protection:

Our executive protection agents are highly experienced and highly trained in the art of close protection. Our EP agents receive extensive training by our experts.

Secure Transportation

Secure transportation for clients upon request. We have a fleet ranging from exotic luxury sedans to SUV's, sprinter vans, and mini-busses to suit your needs.

Remote Monitoring

At times, the most effective security plans for our clients do not require physical security, which is why we provide remote monitoring services for any premise.

Security Consulting:

Our team of experts will prepare your team with the knowledge to tackle any situation.
